Omnipresence

You are not confined to your body. Then, are you dangling around in space here over your head? No, you are omnipresence: I am omnipresence. I am here, and I am there, and I am everywhere. “The place whereon thou standest is holy ground,” for I am there. I am omnipresence. . . I know that I am not born and I will not die for I am that I Am. . . I am equally at home in any part of the world because I am throughout the world. I embrace this world in my consciousness. . . I am in you, and you are in me, and we are in God, for we are all one; we are the I Am . . . We are all in and of one Presence, Omnipresence. . . You know now that you are omnipresence. Ah, but before this, do you know what you said? God is omnipresence. Well, now, what were you? Ah, there it is again: we have a God and a you. Now you will know I am omnipresence, and therefore, I am where you are wherever you are. Out in the ocean in a boat, lost in the desert, I am there: I am where you are.

When Moses was leading the Hebrew people out of Egypt, with the Red Sea before him and Pharaoh's army behind him, he was in a tough spot. I am sure that what Moses did then was to lift up his eyes and say, "Father, here I am, and here You are. You have just revealed to me that 'I Am That I Am,' which means that where I am You are, for we are one; where You are, I am. This very place whereon I stand is holy ground, and You are here."

As time goes on, you become less and less mesmerized by, the earth's pull. You remain in the world, but not of it. You continue to do your particular job, whether in the home, in business, in a profession, or whatever it may be, but you find that you are developing an area of consciousness that never comes down to earth. There is one little bit of you that never again gets involved in the things of this world. All the other part of you may have problems; all the other part of you may be working out of things; but that one little place in your consciousness is reserved and is always singing the song: "All that the Father has is mine. The place whereon I stand is holy ground. I am a transparency through which divine Grace reaches the earth. I am in the presence of my Father, and the Father is within me." It is this area of consciousness that the people of the world contact, and because of this, they find some measure of freedom from their problems.

We do not claim that we know how to heal disease, but we do know how to sit and realize the impotent nature of anything other than God's presence. "Thou couldst have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above." There is no power in darkness; there is no power in the forms in which darkness appears: sin, disease, or lack. Therefore, we do not go into meditation to overcome these; we do not go into meditation to destroy any of the evils of this world. We go into meditation that we may realize: I and the Father are one. Where I am, God is, and because of God's presence, there is peace, harmony, wholeness, and completeness. The place whereon I stand is holy ground, for in the presence of God there is the light of truth.

The practice of bringing to conscious remembrance the passage "The place whereon thou standest is holy ground" is really enough to remove all fear, because no one can fear when he is standing in the presence of God. . . You need only the assured feeling of the presence of God, and fear will depart, even if you are in the lion's den, even if you are loose in a rubber boat on the ocean, even if you are lost on the desert. If you had the conscious presence of God, fear would depart. No circumstance in life could frighten you if you were consciously aware of a spiritual Presence.

Make the transition in consciousness. Move up to that place beside the Master. You can bring this about if you will begin this very moment to realize that the privilege of going to God or to man for anything has been taken away from you. Even in the midst of a prison, a prison of sin or of disease, you must close your eyes to the appearance, beg no more, plead no more, but realize: Thank You, father; all that You are I am. "That which I am seeking, I am." All that You have is mine. where I am is holy ground. for here the spirit of the Lord is, and "where the spirit of the lord is. there is liberty.

Tape:

We can bring about a transition in consciousness if we will start a battle with ourselves. That battle will start the very moment that we realize that we have had the privilege taken away from us of going to God for something—or to man. We have had to sit still and say, "No. . . No more begging, no more pleading, no more looking out," now realizing, "Thank you, Father. All that God Is, I am. That which I am seeking, I Am. All that the Father hath Is mine. Here, where I am, Is holy ground, for here the Spirit of the Lord Is; and where the Spirit of the Lord Is, there Is liberty. . . I have received from the Master. From Truth I have received life eternal. I have received divine Grace. I have received the assurance of my Oneness with God. Now it is my turn to share, to bless, to pray."

Tape:

As we all are one with God, we are all equally happy, joyous, successful, healthy, and we know it, the evidence notwithstanding. In mind (the only universe there is) all are faithful, loving, cooperative. Our home is the atmosphere of love, peopled with spiritual being eager to serve in patience with joy and calm, appreciation, and usefulness. Over and above all is our perfect principle, vitalizing us in our various endeavors to serve its purpose, to the end that all this may glorify the harmony of our spiritual Selfhood. This is the Father's business: expressing his love. In this atmosphere of spiritual consciousness, all are expressing his will and enjoying his grace. "Thy will be done. . . Thine is the kingdom and the power, and the glory." Let us know that we are serving him when we are serving each other. This cannot fail to result in perfect harmony.

Then [the flu-ridden fifteen year old girl] remembered that one of the passages she had been taught was: "The place whereon thou standest is holy ground," so she thought that if the place whereon she stood was holy ground, everything there must be perfect. Within a few minutes she was out of bed and well. . . It was not medicine that went in. It was spiritual medicine that came out, the word of God.

The Journey Back To The Father's House

Infinite Way writings may use such terminology as "You must contact God," or "You must make a contact with God," or "You must seek God," or "You must search for God." That is the language used for beginners, so that they may be led to the realization of the need for God in their immediate experience. As students advance in understanding, however, they must eventually come to a place where they know that God already is "closer. . . than breathing and nearer than hands and feet, " so they do not have to go after God, or search for God. You who are students must know sometimes that "the place whereon thou standest is holy ground," not tomorrow, not after you have read some books, not after you are given treatments, not after you go through classes. No, the purpose of class is to reveal to you that God is closer than breathing this minute, that "the place whereon thou standest" is already holy ground because God is already there, that God is already the life of your being, the soul of your being, the substance of your being.
